

License your data. Get paid.

Approved buyers pay for the email, chat and sales records your business already has. Personal details come out, you approve every offer, and it costs you nothing.

You keep your data

You license a copy. Buyers see a card with names taken out.

No fees to you

The buyer pays Korra's fee. You pay nothing.

$200K – $2M

Typical range. Your size, history, and records set the number.

As fast as 7 days

The buyer pays you. Usual terms are net 30.

How it works

- 1 List what you have
About 15 minutes. No files, no logins.
- 2 Approved buyers make offers
They read a de-identified card and bid.
- 3 You accept and get paid
You sign with the buyer, who pays you.

What counts as data

Email Team chat Sales notes
Support tickets Documents and SOPs
Call transcripts

The most useful records show a whole task: what was asked, what your team did, and the result. Only records your business owns are listed.

Is it safe?

Nothing is uploaded to list. You approve the card first, and records move only after you sign a licence.

What do we have to do?

Answer a few questions about your records. Offers come to your dashboard.

Do we give up our data?

No. You license one copy of past records. Buyers never get access to your systems.

Exclusive or not?

You choose whether others can license the same records.
